

The impacts of climate change are happening right now across California: droughts, wildfires, extreme heat, air and water pollution. According to the latest scientific research, we only have until 2030 to determine how to stop the most catastrophic impacts of the climate crisis.

Climate action is an urgent imperative and it is our best opportunity to address injustice at scale, touching every part of California's economy and infrastructure. At California Environmental Voters Education Fund, we believe that transformational change is necessary to take the bold action needed on climate change.

The EnviroVoters Education Fund inspires hope and action. We fight for equity and justice for all Californians, from voting rights to clean air and water. We educate, engage, and empower Californians to protect California's natural resources and improve the health of our communities.

We work together to make government, policy, and voting accessible by:

- Conducting public opinion research
- Shaping the public narrative
- Organizing with allies and local communities
- Educating legislators on pressing environmental issues

Eco Power Caucus

Members of the Eco Power Caucus include individual and organizational benefactors who prioritize the environment. By becoming a member of the Eco Power Caucus, you join a community of donors who are demanding Bold Climate Action and making their voices heard on the environment.

The Eco Power Caucus is California Environmental Voters Education Fund's 501(c)(3) leading annual fund program and provides unrestricted operating support. Funds raised through the Eco Power Caucus provide essential resources for EnviroVoters Education Fund's year-round initiatives, which build power across all regions of the state, educate the public and legislators on the most pressing issues, develop policy, expand voting rights, shape the public narrative around climate, and ultimately protect our future for generations to come.

“We need to expand knowledge about voting and access to voting for women, people of color, and young people. EnviroVoters Education Fund's efforts to expand the electorate and make civic participation accessible is one critical step in achieving climate justice and overcoming the climate crisis facing our world.”

Nicole Taylor, President and CEO,
Silicon Valley Community Foundation

“EnviroVoters Education Fund’s work is critical, now more than ever, and I am proud to support their efforts to create a just and clean economy. In order to build power in our state and nationally, we need to build a movement that prioritizes organizing and building communities up. This is the work that the Education Fund is doing, day and night, and the Eco Power Caucus is necessary to those efforts.”

Anthony Rendon, California Assembly Speaker

“Our elected officials are accountable to the people and EnviroVoters Education Fund ensures that the public knows how our legislators vote when it comes to environmental policy. The transparency they provide is vital to an effective democracy and deserves our support.”
